INTRODUCTION

Valencia is a place you're bound to love. Washed by the Mediterranean, it is the capital of the Region of Valencia and is famous for its beaches and exceptional climate.

History, tradition and the future await you in this city full of contrasts. Discover traces of the remote past in the old town centre and be amazed by its avant-garde buildings. The possibilities are endless.

► SILK EXCHANGE

Here you will find one of Europe's largest centres for the dissemination of science and culture: the City of Arts and Sciences. You will be amazed by the avant-garde architecture of the stunning Hemisfèric building and by the Oceanogràfic, the largest aquarium in Europe. By contrast, in the streets of the old town centre, known as Ciutat Vella, you will find World Heritage Sites such as the Silk Exchange.

Valencia has a stunning natural environment. The mild Mediterranean climate invites you to enjoy the sea all year round. Its urban beaches are perfect for sunbathing, swimming and enjoying a drink at one of the lively terraces. If you are looking for peace and quiet, get away to one of its unspoilt stretches of sand and lie down amongst the dunes. To get away from it all, just take a walk in one of the green spaces running along the former course of the Turia River or breathe in the pure air of the Albufera Nature Reserve, with its beautiful landscape of beaches and rice fields.

Valencia's cuisine will seduce your senses. In the area around the port and El Cabanyal and La Malvarrosa beaches you will find great restaurants with sea views where you can try Valencia's most international dish: paella. If you prefer something more innovative, you can treat yourself in a signature restaurant.

Join us in exploring Valencia, a fascinating city full of light, and let yourself be captivated by the Mediterranean character of its people who will make you feel right at home.

DISCOVER VALENCIA

NEIGHBOURHOOD BY NEIGHBOURHOOD

▲ EL CARMEN NEIGHBOURHOOD

Valencia's cultural, natural and gastronomic heritage is immense. Discover this on a tour of its neighbourhoods.

CIUTAT VELLA: THE HISTORIC DISTRICT, FULL OF LIFE

Soak up the history while enjoying the very lively atmosphere. Wander the narrow streets of El Carmen neighbourhood and have a drink at one of its terraces. This neighbourhood is the heart of nightlife and culture in the city centre. Within its historic town walls are such magical places as the Torres de Serranos towers and the Botanical Gardens.

For shopping go to La Seu, Valencia's oldest district. Most of the shops are to be found on the streets of La Paz and Poeta Querol, or in Plaza del Ayuntamiento square.

If you like crafts, try Plaza Redonda market, in the El Mercat neighbourhood, and come away with some souvenirs.

▲ PLAZA DEL AYUNTAMIENTO SQUARE

Visit the Mercado Central market, which gives its name to this neighbourhood in the old Ciutat Vella district. Here you will find produce from Valencia's vegetable fields. If you wish to sample these vegetables cooked, reserve a table at one of the area's charming restaurants. To work up a cultural appetite, visit the Cathedral and its famous bell tower, the Miguelete, or the Silk Exchange.

San Francisco, the biggest neighbourhood in the old district, has one of the city's major cultural attractions: the Teatro Principal theatre.

RUZAFÁ: YOUNG AND COSMOPOLITAN

This multicultural neighbourhood, full of contrasts, is in vogue. Go out for dinner, dancing, to an exhibition... everything is possible in "Valencia's Soho".

Ruzafa Market is at the heart of this neighbourhood. Stroll around its stalls and let yourself be captivated by its colours and flavours. You will find restaurants, bars, taverns and terraces with something to suit all tastes.

Take a look at San Valero y San Vicente Mártir Church and you will understand why they call it "Ruzafa Cathedral".

SEASIDE NEIGHBOURHOODS

The city's seafaring spirit is concentrated in these neighbourhoods. Valencia's urban beaches are grouped together here, with many restaurants, perfect places to try paella or fresh fish.

Enjoy one of Valencia's gems: the El Cabanyal neighbourhood. You will love strolling past its colourfully tiled house fronts, and visiting its fresh produce market.

CULTURE

Valencia has museums to suit all tastes and the incredible City of Arts and Sciences, one of the most spectacular modern art buildings in the world.

MUSEUMS

Museum of Fine Arts

Here you can see works by great painters such as Velázquez, Hieronymus Bosch and Goya. Its collections of medieval painters and painters of the Valencian school, such as Ribera and Sorolla, are outstanding.

History Museum

Immerse yourself in Valencia's historical past through its archaeological, photographic and virtual collections. The building that houses the museum was the first water deposit in Valencia.

"Fallas" Museum

Las Fallas is Valencia's most important festival. This museum houses the ninots indultats, that is, the sometimes gigantic papier mâché figures from the festival that were saved from the fire since 1934.

Valencia Institute of Modern Art (IVAM)

Enjoy its permanent collections of Julio González and Ignacio Pinazo and its temporary exhibitions of painting, photography and modern art.

González Martí National Museum of Ceramics and Sumptuary Arts

Explore its extensive collection of ceramics from nearby Manises, Paterna and Alcora. Admire Chinese and Japanese pieces, as well as pieces by artists such as Picasso.

Bombas Gens Centre d'Arts Digitals

Located in an old 1930s factory, this is a cultural space specialising in immersive, audiovisual projects.

Hortensia Herrero Art Centre

Located in the heart of the city, in Palacio de Valeriola, you can find the prestigious private collection of contemporary art from the Hortensia Herrero Foundation.

Sleep with sharks, see the earth from above or go inside a DNA structure. These are some of the possibilities at the City of Arts and Sciences.

CITY OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Designed by the architect from Valencia, Santiago Calatrava, it is one of Europe's largest centres for the dissemination of science and culture. It comprises several buildings with amazing avant-garde architecture.

If you cross the l'Umbracle, an enormous green space with sculptures by contemporary artists, you will come to a colossal transparent glass structure – the Museu de les Ciències. Following its motto, "Forbidden not to touch", it offers various interactive exhibitions.

In L'Oceanogràfic, the largest aquarium in Europe, you can listen to the sounds of the sea, be surrounded by sharks, or walk amongst penguins. In the stunning Hemisfèric cinema, in the form of an eye, you can watch IMAX films that will reveal the mysteries of the universe to you.

The complex is completed by the Les Arts auditorium, a building designed in the form of an immense sculpture that is a venue for opera, the L'Assut de l'Or bridge and the Àgora space, housing the CaixaForum Valencia museum.

TASTING VALENCIA

Savour a plate of paella and a good wine as you're caressed by the Mediterranean breeze. By the port and El Cabanyal and La Malvarrosa beaches you will find fantastic restaurants overlooking the sea.

In the Albufera area, you should try all i pebre (garlic and paprika) – a potato, paprika, garlic and eel stew – or suquet de peix, a typical fish casserole with different types of fish and a light sauce.

Don't forget to taste horchata, a delicious drink made from tiger nuts, accompanied by fartons, which are soft pastries sprinkled with sugar.

Something more innovative? Look for one of the signature Mediterranean cuisine restaurants. Some have Michelin stars.

Market cuisine is very popular in Valencia. The Central Market, a modernist gem, offers produce from Valencia's vegetable fields and the sea. Stroll around its traditional stalls and delicatessens and admire the light shining through its domes and stained glass windows. The historic Colón Market will surprise you with its offer of cuisine. Enjoy a gourmet tapa or try its tastings or workshops.

VALENCIA THROUGHOUT THE SEASONS

Whenever you choose to visit Valencia, you will find endless activities to enjoy. Here are just a few.

SUMMER

If you like music, there are many festivals to enjoy in the Region of Valencia during the summer. Benicàssim International Festival (FIB) is one of the biggest independent music festivals in Spain. In early June, the City of Arts and Sciences hosts the indie music Les Arts Festival and, at the end of the month, the urban sounds of the BigSound festival. In July and August, you can go to live outdoor gigs in the Viveros Gardens with the Concerts de Vivers and Nits de Vivers cycles. And throughout July, you can visit the Gran Fira de Valencia, with a programme full of music shows, fireworks displays and the popular Flower Battle, to end the festivities.

AUTUMN

9 October is Region of Valencia Day. Join the parades, processions and dances throughout the city.

Treat yourself in October at the Valencia Cuina Oberta Festival, a mouth-watering initiative in which the best restaurants offer exquisite set menus at irresistible prices.

WINTER

Valencia's biggest festival takes place in March: Las Fallas bonfire festival. Some 400 enormous figures, of a strongly satirical and critical kind, fill the streets in this festival declared to be Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO.-

La cremá is the most popular moment: the figures that are displayed in the streets are burnt on the night of 19-20 March. The smell of gunpowder from the mascretás (firecracker shows) is everywhere, along with bands playing music and regional costume parades.

SPRING

In May you can buy craft ceramics at the L'Escurieta Market, in Plaza de la Reina square.

Do you want to discover Valencian folklore? Don't miss the traditional dansà that takes place on the evening of the second Sunday in May as part of the festival of the Virgin of Los Desamparados, the patron saint of Valencia.

▲ LAS FALLAS BONFIRE FESTIVAL

BEACHES AND NATURE

Take a plunge at one of Valencia's beaches. La Malvarrosa, El Cabanyal and La Patacona beaches are 15 minutes from the city centre. If you are looking for beaches in a more natural setting, 10 kilometres away you will find more unspoilt ones, surrounded by sand dunes and dense vegetation. Some of the most famous of these beaches are L'Arbre del Gos, El Saler and La Devesa.

Visit the Albufera Nature Reserve, a navigable wetland area with a great biodiversity of flora and fauna. Walk the Chulilla hanging bridge route for hiking at the beautiful surroundings of the Turia river canyon. Or enter the amazing Don Juan Cave, in Jalance, with stalactites and stalagmites in underground spaces that have such evocative names as Lake of Desires and the Devil's Grotto.

VALENCIA WITH THE FAMILY

Valencia is a perfect city to enjoy with the kids. Take them on a boat ride in the Albufera Nature Reserve, see them smile at the L'iber-Lead Soldier Museum or enjoy the outdoors at a Gulliver-themed park, full of jumping ramps and slides.

At the City of Arts and Sciences the kids can have fun learning: see the animals that live in the L'Oceanogràfic and interact with learning activities in the Museu de les Ciències.

Another great place for the family is Terra Mítica (Benidorm). One and a half hours by car from Valencia, this theme park offers fun and attractions for all ages.

THE HIDDEN CITY

If you have more time, we suggest a visit to other lesser-known places in Valencia.

PARKS AND GARDENS

Stroll around and relax in one of the pleasant spots in Turia Gardens, one of the largest city parks in Spain, with recreational and sports areas.

At the historic and luxuriant El Real Gardens, Moorish in origin, you can admire the numerous sculptures and fountains.

SECRET MUSEUMS

Get pleasantly surprised by museums such as the College of the High Art of Silk. They will explain to you the importance of Valencia on the Silk Road. The city was the nerve centre of silk manufacture from the 8th century.

At the Valencia Museum of Ethnology you can see how local society has changed over the years.

Soak up the art at the Cathedral Museum of Valencia, with canvases by Goya, Llanos and Almedina.

If you like literature, at La Malvarrosa Beach you can visit the Blasco Ibáñez House-Museum, where this Valencian writer lived. The La Almoína Archaeological Museum is a large underground space revealing the most monumental elements of the city's Roman, Visigoth and Arab history.

MONUMENTS

Valencia is full of amazing monuments. Next to the Central Market you will find Los Santos Juanes Church, originally a mosque. See Antonio Palomino's Baroque frescoes covering the vault and walls. Palomino also designed the amazing al fresco paintings of the Church of San Nicolás de Bari and San Pedro Mártir, which the experts call "Valencia's Sistine Chapel".

Visit the home of illustrious 19th century figures at Cervelló Palace. The facade retains its original Neoclassical appearance and is flanked by two towers and balconies at two levels.

Tinglados del Puerto is a great place to go for a walk. This emblematic complex of buildings is a true architectural gem and an essential icon of the city.

VALENCIA'S ROOFTOPS

For a full panoramic view of Valencia, get away to the Pico Garbí Viewpoint, in the Calderona mountains, some 40 kilometres from Valencia.

VALENCIA

EXPERIENCE VALENCIA'S NIGHTLIFE

Do you like going out at night? In Valencia you have a lot to choose from.

Stroll around the oldest streets in Valencia, in the El Carmen neighbourhood. You are sure to find a place you like, a terrace to sit at or a restaurant to have dinner.

The most alternative places are in Ruzafa. Find a sophisticated bar where people go for drinks after work, or dance to 80s music at a club with personality.

The Marina de Valencia has the most chic atmosphere. Bars, restaurants and clubs with a feeling of luxury where you can relax next to the sea.

TOURS AND WALKS

If you visit Valencia during the Fallas festival, you can spend a whole day seeing some of the spectacular papier-mâché figures. In the centre, go to see the Fallas figure in the Town Hall square. It is not entered in the contest but is one of the most spectacular figures. From there you can go on to see countless Fallas figures, close to each other.

Are you interested in the Silk Road? Visit the Velluters neighbourhood, nowadays known as the El Pilar neighbourhood, and see the Silk Exchange and the College of the High Art of Silk. In the vicinity you will discover buildings with centuries of history that are well worth a visit, such as El Pilar Church and the Old General Hospital of Valencia, now a public library.

Touring the city by bike is very easy, thanks to more than 200 kilometres of bike lanes and the old Turia River bed, now a garden crossing the city centre. There are many possible routes. Start at the City of Arts and Sciences and go as far as the rice fields and the lagoon at La Albufera, wafted by the salty smell of the sea. Or follow the Vía Augusta Way, the old Roman road near the coast, as far as the Marjal dels Moros, where you can watch an unforgettable sunset.

WHAT TO VISIT NEAR VALENCIA

Here are some other destinations you can enjoy close to the city.

HUERTA DE VALENCIA REGION

You can visit this area on foot or on horseback. You can take part in picking vegetables, learn to cook a paella, and then enjoy eating it.

EL PUIG MONASTERY

Visit the Museum of Print and Graphic Arts, a Renaissance-style religious building with four defensive towers.

SAGUNTO

More than 2,000 years old, the city boasts many places of interest. Highlights are the Roman ruins and Sagunto Castle.

VALENCIA WINE ROUTE

The Utiel-Requena region is famous for its wines. Discover the vineyards that dot its rocky landscape. Visit a winery and taste wine from Valencia.

MANISES

The charming city of Manises is famous for its ceramics. You can visit the Ceramics Museum, housed in a 16th-17th century building decorated with beautiful tiles, and see monuments like the Els Arcs aqueduct.

HOW TO GET THERE

TRAIN

High-speed trains connect the city with Madrid, Cuenca, Albacete, Castellón de la Plana, Alicante and Murcia. In addition, long-distance trains connect Valencia with the main Spanish cities.

AIRPORT

Valencia Airport, also known as Manises Airport, connects the city with the main national and international destinations.

CAR

Valencia has a modern road network making it easy to reach. The AP-7 Mediterranean motorway, which runs from north to south along the Levante coast, connects with the European motorway network and the A-23 Sagunto-Somport and A-3 Madrid-Valencia motorways.

VALENCIAN: CO-OFFICIAL LANGUAGE

Two languages coexist in Valencia: Valencian, the Valencia Region's own language, and Castilian Spanish, the official language of the Spanish State. Most of the signs and signals are in both languages.

GETTING AROUND IN VALENCIA

The urban buses, trams and the underground reach all points of the city. Valencia is very good for getting around by bicycle. For nearby destinations, use the local trains.
